First Cruise Job Fair of 2019!

Sponsored by Viking

Next week will see the first ever Cruise Job Fair taking place in the beautiful city of Munich, Germany. Following the success of previous job fairs across the UK and Europe, media agency Webix Ltd is delighted to bring the Cruise Job Fair to Munich for the first time!

Managing Director of Webix, Jay Dravecky says: “The German cruise market is rapidly growing, and Munich is one of the top three cities in the country where people looking for work on cruise ships are based. It is also ideally located as it borders many other European countries and we are expecting to attract hundreds of qualified and experienced candidates looking for employment on-board cruise ships from Germany and neighbouring countries.”

Scheduled for Friday 15th February at the Konferenzzentrum München from 11.00-16.00, this event offers candidates the unique opportunity to speak face to face with recruitment agencies and recruiters from leading cruise lines, hand over their CVs in person and discuss any job opportunities.

Viking, Disney Cruise Lines, Holland America Line and Cunard Line are amongst the numerous companies that will be in attendance from all of the leading cruise lines, concessionaires and recruitment agencies, and they are all looking to meet experienced and enthusiastic candidates for a wide range of positions on board cruise ships. Many of them are specifically looking for German speaking candidates.

The aim of the job fair is to bring quality candidates and recruiters together. They are seen as the leading careers fairs with the cruise line industry and offer a great opportunity for everyone involved. On the day candidates will be able to acquire everything needed to secure a dream job onboard a cruise ship, such as advice on how to strengthen their CV and interview skills, and to understand what training will be required and if necessary, where to find it.

Dravecky adds: “If you would like to find work on a cruise ship in 2019, then attending a job fair will increase your chances significantly. In fact, we have seen that candidates who attend a job fair are ten times more like to be offered a position following the fair, compared to simply applying online.”
